CLIMATE EDITION

Connecticut's Global Venture Series Goes Green

What is it?

VentureClash Climate Edition is the new green spin on Connecticut's global venture series for early-stage companies. We are looking for international and domestic companies that are solving climate-related issues across, but not limited to four main industry sectors: grid, water, waste and mobility. Our goal is to find the top green companies looking to establish a US headquarters in Connecticut and further their success by providing access to a network of resources based in the state.

This full-day event will bring together key stakeholders, corporate partners, state agencies, investors and other ecosystem members looking for groundbreaking ideas that can improve Connecticut's environmental resilience and grow a Connecticut-based green ecosystem.

How does it work?

If selected, presenting companies will receive a $5,000 stipend to travel to Connecticut and present at VentureClash Climate Edition.

Companies will pitch for approximately 10 minutes to a panel of industry mentors, as well as an audience of potential customers, advisors and investors, enhancing their opportunity for investment and strategic collaboration in Connecticut.

Who is eligible?

- Companies using innovation to actively solve climate-related issues
- Companies in business for at least one year
- Companies that have a compelling reason to be in Connecticut
- Companies that have raised early-stage capital

How can I apply?

To be considered to present at VentureClash Climate Edition, companies must apply by Saturday, August 20, 2022, by visiting ventureclash.com/apply. Finalists will be notified by Thursday, September 15, and will be asked to present on Thursday, October 27, 2022, at The District, 470 James Street, New Haven, Connecticut.
